WAS IT GRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE?

Coal Dealer Haiss and Four Mer Held by the Coroner.

Little Mamie Freeman's Death to Be Fully Investigated.

Five prisoners were brought down to the Coroner's office this morning charged with sriminal negligence, by which Mamie Freeman was crushed to death yesterday afternoon under a huge pile of coal. The prisoners were George Haiss, the senior partuer in the firm of Haiss Brothers, coal dealers at First avenue and Thirty-fourth street, and John Donnelly, 161 First avenue; Thomas Connors, 353 East Thirty-eighth street, Patrick Whalen, 305 East scond street and John McMahon, of 693 First avenue, who were employed in the coal-yard as shovellers.

About two hundred tons of stove coal was piled up in Hoise's coal bin. The only par-tition separating the coal from the yard where the little girl was killed was a flimey wooden fence about eighteen feet high and an inch thick, which was held in place by posts entirely inadequate to hold the im-

Haiss as a hostler, when the fence suddenly gave way and the two children were buried under the immense heap.

Henry was rescued ten minutes later in a faint condition, but when the girl was found, three-quarters of an hour after the accident, she was breathing her last.

The body lay in a coffin in the Freeman spartments this morning. The little face was bruised and cut, while her body was a mass of bruises.

Relatives of Haiss called to see Mrs. Freeman iast night and offered her assistance.

"They are kind," she said, "but why were they not careful? Money will not bruing my little girl back to me."

Mrs. O'Sullivan, housekeeper of 603 First avenue, sa, a that the men began filling the coal bin several days ago. Testerday morning the went out into the yard to sweep and was tartied by the appearance of the tence, it was bulging in the centre, and so alarmed was she that she did not go near it to clean up.

was he that she did not go near it to clean up, rhe went through the house warning the tenants to keep their children from the yard, snut then, she claims, she notified Bookkeeper W. R. Emory, who is employed by riales from the control of the pies.

At 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon Thomas Nuccio, a barber who, has a shop on the ground noor of 603 First avenue, heard a realist goine in the rear yard.

Jeng aware of the dancerous condition of the fence he raised back and found the categorous barrier. He called to them to get out of danger. The boy started away, but the little grif only looked up and amiled.

Refore Nuccio could call to her again the huge pile of coal came down with a crash, shurying both children.

Jerore Coroner Hanley this morning Haiss denied that he had been warned of the dancerous condition of the fence.

He said he had been asked by the owner of a house which adjoined the north side of the coal bin not to pile coal too high against the wall, as he feared the strain would be loogreat.

The men were told to shove the coal back

GROWING OLD IN JAIL.

Michael Kildare Confined for Month Without Even a Hearing.

Astriking case of suffering by the law's delays came up at the Tombs to-day.

The Grand Jury of Kings County indicted Michael Kildare a month ago on a charge of picking Chas. Lambrick's pocket on a bridge train. Kildare was called for trial before Judge Moore in Brooklyn yesterday.

before Judge Moore in Brooklyn Yesterday, and the Justice said he should be put on rial in New York City.

His Honor is said to have commented severely on the matter when apprised that Ridare had been allowed to remain in Baymond Street Jail so long without having been brought to trial.

The prisoner appeared in the Tombs Court today. He was held for examination, just as though the crime were committed yesterday.

Bail was fixed at $500. He is twenty-two years old and a laborer. It is probable that kildare will remain some weeks yet in prison before a final disposition of his case is made.

BLOODHOUNDS ON THE TRAIL. BATHED IN BLOOD,

Scouring the Country for Sandbagging Convict Fugitives.

Their Assault on the Keepers and Escape from the State Prison.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I TRENTON, N. J., May 20 .- Men armed to the teeth and accompanied by six huge bloodhounds left the State Prison at day light this morning to relieve the band of keepers who spent the night in the woods around Bordentown unsuccessfully searching for two negroes, Thomas Thomas, alias "Drum," and Henry Jackson, alias "Kitchen," who escaped in a most dazing fashion from the prison about dusk last The orders are to recapture them, dead or of the "Black and White" gang which terrorized Monmouth County about seven and struck him with a stocking full of wet sand.

After he fell the negroes bounded him repeatedly on the head with the sandbag and kieked him in the side.

Then Jackson, who worked in the kitchen took off his apran and stuffed as much of it as he could into the insensible man's mouth, and tied the strings as tightly as he could about his threat.

Not satisfied, the murderous wretches bound him hand and foot and left him more dead than alive in a corner of the office.

Before leaving him they rifed his pockets of the keys to the main door, about $800 in bills, a silver watch and some valuable trinkels.

bills, a silver watch and some valuable trinkels.
They did not hurry in their work. After quicting Parker they walked upstairs and dressed themselves in citizen's clothes, over their convict garb, including new Spring overcoats, belonging to Keepers Casper and Bergen of the night watch, who had left them in a closet when going on duty at 6 o'clock.

outsily released him and hastily summoned Dr. William Rice, who restored him to consciousness, when he made known the particulars of the escape.

Assistant Chief Keeper Madden at once despatched a band of armedmen in different directions to escape for the runsways, but they could find no trace of them.

Mr. Madden also sent a description of the fugitives to inspector Byrnes and the chiefs of detectives in all the large cities between here and San Francisco.

Thomas is about 5 feet 91s inches tall, weighs 162 pounds, has a foot 104s inches long, and has a scar on the back of his left wrist, a small sear in each sylveny and one in the hair just at the forehead.

Jackson has a scar on the left side of the heck. He weighs 142 pounds, is 5 feet 61s inches tall, and has a toot eleven inches long.

Both fugitives received their numerous scars while resisting arrest.

Thomas is twenty-four, and Jackson thirty-six vears old. They are New York crooks and used to make their headquarters in Thompson street.

Capt. Farker is seriously injured, and it is feared that on account of his ago and feeble health he cannot recover from the murderous attack He was removed from the prison to his home this morning. Dr. Rice cannot tell as yet whether his skull is fractured or not.

Unief heeper Patterson heard this morning that about 9 o'clock last night two negroes answering the description of the missing men were seen in its rectured or not.

Thus was the first except from Trenton Prison since Aug. 1, 1884, when a Gurman new was the first except from Trenton Prison answer recaptured.
